This mesmerising evening marked the special concept preview and launch of one of the most ultra-luxurious designer residential properties 'Signia Skys' in the city. The do witnessed prominent members of the real-estate fraternity, socialites and Bollywood luminaries in attendance. The mega gathering brought together the creme de la creme of the glitterati having a penchant for adopting a lavish lifestyle with pride. To welcome one and all with elan, a plush city hot-spot was beautifully ornated with flowers, lamps and scented candles, creating a feel of positivity and coolness in the aura. Kamal Khetan, CMD of Sunteck Realty Ltd and Sussane Roshan, founder of 'The Charcoal Project', India's leading conceptual designer store, shared space on the dais along with noted Bollywood actor Kabir Bedi. Looking classic in his black suit, Kabir in his opening testimony stated, "Though we all live under the same sky, our vision and thinking horizons are different. Signia Skys is a limited edition venture that is meant for Nagpur's high-end patrons. 'Bold and Beautiful' are the perfect words to describe it, as this project is an amalgamation of nature's beauty and world class amenities".

After the audio-visual of the mega-project was shown to the audience, it was time for a one-to-one rendezvous with Kamal

Star-studded soiree

Khetan and Sussane Roshan. Kamal said, "Luxury is in our DNA but we will usher in central India as a journey from 'land' to 'landmark'. We aim to provide quality and better value for money to our customers and I am sure this development will become an iconic destination in Nagpur". In order to be in sync with the trendy summer makeover, women's style quotient at this do displayed their unique sense of fashion. Anjana Gehani looked stunning in her crimson gown, whereas Anchal Arora's monochrome printed ensemble made her look in-tune with the season. Known for her quirky sense of elegance, renowned interior designer Sussane was dressed in a black A-liner outfit. Endorsing her views, she said, "I want to thank Nagpur for launching something which is new and dear to our hearts. My job is to breathe new life in ideas whether it is a commercial or residential project. Though wife is the homemaker and the one who decides the look of the house, it becomes a lot easier when husband and children provide you with more information. I believe in bespoke houses. Each home is an extension of one's persona." Amicable yet boundless bonhomie was visible between the quintessential businessmen and entrepreneurs, as discussions ranged from opulence and splendour to chit-chatting and having informal camaraderie with their buddies. People were later spotted clicking snapshots with their favourite celebrities and the gratifying mood of celebration seemed to have no end.
